

Museum of Happiness

This half term we have turned our school into a Museum of Happiness. Whilst we are all going through such a difficult time, as a school we wanted to do something to help us all focus on the happy things in life and bring hope to our school and the community. Each class created their own display that had to be creative, share ideas of what makes them happy and most importantly make the people looking at it smile. I think you will agree our children have done a fantastic job. Our museum is for all the members of our community (not just the ones in school) so while you can't come and visit in person have a look at our website to see all the fantastic work our children have done.
